

THOMAS V. DiBACCO, Ph.D.

1295 North Lake Way
Palm Beach, Florida 33480
561-881-8658 (Phone & Fax)

Education:

B.A., with highest distinction, Rollins College, 1959
M.A., Ph.D., The American University, 1962, 1965

Employment History:

Staff Assistant, (Washington, D.C.) U.S. Senator Spessard L. Holland (FL), 1959-64
Instructor, University of South Florida, 1964-65
Assistant Professor, The American University, 1965-69; Associate Professor, 1969-77;
Dean for Faculty Affairs, 1974-81; Professor, Kogod College of Business Administration, 1977-99; Professor Emeritus, 1999--

Teaching Specialties:

United States History
United States Social History
History of Business, Technology, and the Economy

Publication:

Four Books

Most recent: History of the United States (1991, Houghton Mifflin), a high school textbook, including the following editions:
History of the United States (volume 2, 1992);
History of the United States (volume 2, 1992, California edition);
History of the United States (1993);
History of the United States (volume 2, 1994);
History of the United States (1995);
History of the United States (volume 2, 1995);
History of the United States (1997);
History of the United States (volume 2, 1997).

Made in the U.S.A.: The History of American Business (1987, Harper Row): two hardback printings with paper edition issued in March 1988; the United States Information Agency purchased the rights to translate 20,000 copies into Chinese. Book was also a featured work in the Fortune Book Club.

Reprint edition of Made in the U. S. A: The History of American Business published by Beard Books on October 31, 2003.

Articles: Over 2,000 articles in scholarly and popular form, including Harvard's Business History Review, Journal of Politics, Journalism Quarterly, Wall Street Journal, New York Times, Washington Post, Christian Science Monitor, Philadelphia Inquirer, Boston Globe, Newsday, Chicago Tribune, Baltimore Sun, Baltimore Evening Sun, Chicago Sun-Times, Los Angeles Times, Chronicle of Higher Education, USA Today, San Francisco Chronicle, Richmond Times Dispatch, Miami Herald, Palm Beach Post, Virginia-Pilot, Hartford Courant, Pittsburgh Post Gazette, Indianapolis Star, Washington Times, Orlando

Sentinel, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Richmond News-Leader

Consultant Activities:

American Council on Education
Business Council for International Understanding
Foreign Service Institute, U.S. Department of State
National Endowment for the Humanities
International Institute of Education
Meridian House International
National Geographic Society
National Science Foundation
U.S. Information Agency
Washington, D.C. business firms
Nationwide Fortune 500 business firms

Media Activities:

Regular radio and television participation, including Good Morning America, Today Show, NBC Nightly News, CNBC
Featured speaker in University of Notre Dame's film, "Today's Life Choices: Legislating Morality," Golden Dome Production, 1996
Speeches and panel discussion participation nationwide

Honors and Special Recognition:

Best Professor, The American University, selected Senior Class, 1971
Chairman, University Faculty Senate, The American University, 1973-74
"America, the Second Century" television series (one segment with Robert Heilbroner), winner of the Bronze Medal, New York Film and Video Festival, 1980
Honors Convocation Awards, Kogod College of Business Administration, The American University, Outstanding Program Development (1981) and Scholarship (1982)
Distinguished Alumnus Award, Rollins College, 1983

Personal:

Married, 1959, Mallie Z. Rowe DiBacco, Ph.D.
Two children: Deborah, attorney, Paris, France, and Thomas, Washington, D.C. media editor and producer
Three grandchildren